Women Who Wear Well.

It is astonishing how great a change a few years of married life often make in the appearance and disposition of many women. The freshness, the charm, the brilliance vanish like the bloom from a peach which is rudely handled. The matron is only a dim shadow, a faint echo of the charming maiden. There are two reasons for this change, ignorance and neglect. Few young women appreciate the shock to the system through the change which comes with marriage and motherhood. Many neglect to deal with the unpleasant pelvic drains and weaknesses which too often come with marriage and motherhood, not understanding that this secret drain is robbing the cheek of its freshness and the form of its fairness.

As surely as the general health suffers when there is derangement of the health of the delicate womanly organs, so surely when these organs are established in health the face and form at once witness to the fact in renewed comeliness. Nearly a million women have found health and happiness in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Ingredients on label—contains no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs. Made wholly of those native, American, medicinal roots most highly recommended by leading medical authorities of all the several schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments.

For nursing mothers, or for those broken-down in health by too frequent bearing of children, also for the expectant mothers, to prepare the system for the coming of babe, and making its advent easy and almost painless, there is no medicine quite so good as "Favorite Prescription." It can do no harm in any condition of the system. It is a most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine nicely adapted to woman's delicate system by a physician of large experience in the treatment of woman's peculiar ailments.

Dr. Pierce may be consulted by letter free of charge. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

"PROTESTANTISM SPENT."

Protestantism was attacked and Catholicism defended Tuesday by Rev. Frederick Burgess, of Christ Episcopal Church in New Haven, Conn. In addressing an association of Episcopal clergymen he asserted that it could be taken as an axiom that Protestantism had spent itself and was passing, that its idols were not of this age and that its traditional theology had been discredited.

"It can never be a basis for Christian unity," he said. "for it is by nature individualistic and begets disintergration. There are some Catholic elements in Protestantism and its achievements are many and evident. Its strong ethical emphasis has been most valuable. But lacking the Catholic balance and symmetry, it has produced sometimes a narrow and pharisaical Puritanism or an admirable Paganism—a respectable, non-religious self-sufficiency. We want some kind of Catholicism—something which has that conception of universality and fulness. It is better to have a large aim and policy and fail to live up to it than to have a low and limited ideal. Protestantism aimed at securing freedom and rights for the individual. Having succeeded, its work is done. What is needed now is to secure the rights of the community of the social organism."

Rheumatic Pains Relieved.

LETTER FROM MR. CLEVELAND

The following letter from ex-President Cleveland has been published:

"I have received your letter of the 10th inst., asking for an expression of my views in regard to the Nebraska democratic platform, and the general type of proposals to which it seeks to affix the democratic label.

"You doubtless know, as well as all my fellow-countrymen, that I am a believer at all times in the democratic creed, which he who runs may read, and which it was never more necessary than now to impress upon the attention of the American people.

"Our people need rest, after a period of terrific hysteria; they need peace, after intense excitement and apprehension, and they need conservatism after the disturbing fever of radicalism.

"These things true democracy in its integrity and purity should offer to them, and nothing except these things and the advocacy of democratic policies which lead directly to their establishment, deserves to have affixed to it the democratic label. GROVER CLEVELAND.

"Princeton, N. J., March 18, 1908."

Can you believe your senses?

When two of them, taste and smell, having been impaired if not utterly destroyed, by Nasal Catarrh, are fully restored by Ely's Cream Balm, can you doubt that this remedy deserves all that has been said of it by the thousands who have used it? It is applied directly to the affected air-passage and begins its healing work at once. Why not get it today? All druggists or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York, on receipt of 50 cents.

MURDER AND SUICIDE.

While walking along a street in Ashley, a suburban place of Wilkesbarre, Pa., with his wife, Louis Dieroff shot and killed her yesterday afternoon, and then blew out his brains. They had evidently been quarreling, for the man was gesticulating wildly, while his wife kept shaking her head.

Suddenly Dieroff stopped, and, as his wife advanced, he jerked a revolver out of his pocket, and thrusting it so close to the back of her head that her hair blazed with the flame of the shot, he fired, and she pitched forward upon her face, dead.

Almost before she had fallen, and before any of the spectators could reach him, Dieroff thrust the still smoking revolver in his mouth and blew out his brains. He died immediately. His wife left him two weeks ago because he had been drinking and went to live with her parents in Ashley.

SENTENCED TO IMPRISONMENT.

The criminal court sentenced four peasants at Eichstadt, Bavaria, yesterday to two years' imprisonment each for waylaying, beating and blackmailing Prince Francis Joseph of Bavaria and finally driving him ignominiously from the village of Dorndorf. The Prince was passing through the village in his automobile at the time of the assault when the quartet of peasants gathered a mob, dragged his highness and his chauffeur from their car, brutally mishandled them and forced the prince to pay $40 because, as they charged, the car had struck and injured a horse belonging to one of their number. It was shown at the trial that the animal was really injured by its owner that a claim might be made against his highness in excess of the amount the crippled beast was really worth.

The Eighth District Committee.

At a meeting of the Congressional State Democratic Committee, for the Eighth Congressional District of Virginia, held at the Prince William Hotel, in the town of Manassas Virginia, on the 9th day of March, 1908, pursuant to a call issued by the chairman, the Hon. George S. Shackelford, there were present, the chairman, Col. Grenville Gaines; R. T. Green, Gardner L. Boothe and Thos. H. Lion. The following resolutions was adopted:

Be it resolved by the Congressional Democratic Committee for the Eighth Congressional District of Virginia, that a primary election, for the democratic candidate for the United States House of Representatives, be held throughout said District on the 9th day of June, 1908, between sunrise and sunset of that day, at all established precincts or wards, and as near as possible in the usual voting places therein; be it further,

Resolved, that at said election all known white democrats and those who have never before voted, who shall declare themselves to be democrats, shall be allowed to vote, provided they will be qualified to vote at the next general election in November, 1908; be it further,

Resolved, that all candidates shall file a notice, in writing, of their candidacy, with Hon. George S. Shackelford, of Orange, Virginia, on or before April 4th, 1908; be it further,

Resolved, that each candidate shall pay to the said Hon. George S. Shackelford, on or before the 15th day of April, 1908, his pro rata share of $1,500, that being the estimate of total expenses of conducting the said primary election; be it further,

Resolved, that any sum remaining after the expenses of said election are paid, shall be returned pro rata to the various candidates; be it further,

Resolved, that this election shall be separate and independent and not held in connection with any other primary.

THURSDAY EVENING, MAR. 19, 1908.

SENTENCING Harry Orchard to be executed on May 15, Judge Wood at Caldwell, Idaho, yesterday, not only recommended a remission of the punishment he was compelled under the law to decree, but made it the occasion of charging William D. Haywood and George A. Pettibone with having escaped conviction, when not innocent, of participation in the murder of former Governor Frank Steunenberg. The judge declared Orchard had told the truth against these defendants, and ought not to die after he had performed that service. The fact that Haywood and Pettibone escaped a verdict of guilty did not impeach Orchard's remarkable story, the court held, because, under the law of Idaho, the testimony alone of an accomplice was not sufficient to produce their conviction. This crime was an atrocious one and the public shares Judge Wood's opinion that Haywood and Pettibone were equally guilty with Orchard.

ALL but three of the treaties agreed to at The Hague Conference have been ratified by the Senate. The excepted treaties, which are still held under consideration, are the most important and are those relating to the pacific settlement of international disputes, the limitation of the employment of force in the collection of contractual claims and the establishment of an international court of appeals in prize cases. These are the very three conventions about which all the discussions at the conference turned; they alone mark steps in advance. The other seven or eight, while important, were not subjects of controversy, and were concerned with the conduct of warfare. The peace treaties seem to have as much difficulty in getting through the Senate as they had getting through the conference.

IN SPITE of the Dingley duties on paper and paper materials, ranging along from 15 per cent. on wood pulp to 100 per cent. on playing cards, the imports amounted last year to $20,808,858. Of these imports wood pulp alone amounted to $8,024,952 in value. For the benefit of the paper trust only wood is duty free, and its imports last year amounted to 827,089 cords, of the value of $4,002,795. The Philadelphia Record says these duties serve as indication of the extent of the extortions of the paper trust upon the printers and publishers of the country. Whenever importations are made under these duties they afford a measure of what the trust wrests from consumers above a fair price upon all that it produces.

HOW shortsighted and selfish the republican protectionists statesmen have been! They have thrown away the trade of half the continent by making the tariff tax so high that Canada can only trade with us to a limited extent and also by refusing to moderate this protectionism by reciprocity. To protect herself from United States trust products, Canada, very naturally, was compelled to raise a similar tariff wall. The result is that the people of both countries are plundered by the high price of products that under a tariff for revenue they could buy much cheaper.

THE revised idea of the ship subsidy bill has been reported favorably by the Senate committee on commerce. This time it takes the form of postal subsidies, but what it will be amended to before it is finally passed only the republican managers can tell. Anyway, the people will have to pay the bill every year and it will not be a small one, either.

MR. ANDREW CARNEGIE declares the Aldrich currency bill is a mere makeshift and approves the Fowler bill. Emergency currency, which the republicans were so anxious for when their panic scared them out of their boots, is evidently gone glimmering.

THE Taft boomers have him already nominated on the first ballot, but as only a few delegates have so far been elected they may be mistaken, but why discourage this White House figuring based on beautiful hope?

J. PETER HOLLAND, candidate for Congress in the Second Virginia district, is advocating a high tariff on peanuts He thus becomes a peanut politician.

From Washington.

(Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.)

Washington, D. C., March 19.

Whether organized labor will enter the political field in the coming campaign as an independent political party, just now appears to depend largely on how Congress will receive the new measures which the conference of labor leaders now meeting here will draft, and which purpose relief from the construction placed upon the Sherman anti-trust law by the Supreme Court, and will also outline a new employers' liability measure, and anti-injunction bill. That William Randolph Hearst and his Independence League are deeply interested in the deliberations of the conference, and are alive to the possibility of a coalition with organized labor in the approaching campaign, is evident from the fact that Hearst sent down from New York a personal report to keep him posted on developments. President Gompers said this morning that he hoped that the conference would be able to conclude its work by tonight. It is expected that the drafts of the proposed bills which were proposed by the executive council of the American Federation of Labor will, with slight modifications, be reported favorably to the conference by the committee on legislation appointed at yesterday's session. With a rising unanimous vote the conference today adopted the protest drafted by the committee appointed yesterday demanding from Congress relief from present conditions imposed upon them by the Supreme Court. This matter will be presented to the Speaker by the committee and to the Vice-President this afternoon. The morning session included a thorough discussion of the hardships imposed upon organized labor by reason of the decision of the Supreme Court virtually branding labor as a trust, speeches being made by various delegates. President Gompers after the session emphatically denied the published statement that there had been a break between organized labor and Seth Low, of the national federation. At the afternoon session, the political situation was discussed.

The Tatsu-Maru incident between China and Japan has been closed. Minister Wu today received a dispatch from Pekin, stating that the vessel had been delivered to the Japanese, and that the Japanese flag had been saluted, also that an agreement had been reached between the two countries to draw up a convention that would prevent the smuggling of arms in the future.

It is announced that Katherine Elkins, who will marry the Duke of Abruzzi, will embrace the Roman Catholic faith. This is one of the few requests the Duke made.

A movement was instituted in the House today to have Congress enact legislation establishing standards of ladders, sill steps, running boards and roof handholds on cars used in interstate commerce.

Sixtieth Congress.

Washington, Mar. 19.

SENATE.

Senator Allison was the subject of hearty congratulations from his colleagues when he appeared on the floor of the Senate today. The fact that the Iowa State convention is largely in favor of the re-election of the Senator is regarded as a distinctly favorable incident in his campaign.

Senator Bankhead, on behalf of himself and his colleague, Mr. Johnston, announced that on Saturday, April 11, he would ask the Senate to suspend its labors and devote the afternoon to eulogies of the late Senators Morgan and Pettus of his State—Alabama.

The administration bill for the re-enlistment of the negro soldiers of the 25th infantry who were discharged without honor as a result of the Brownsville affray, was today introduced in the Senate by Senator Warren (rep. Mo.) It provides that any of the soldiers who can establish their innocence of participation in the affray to the satisfaction of the President may be restored to the army, and that any man thus restored will be entitled to full pay and allowances from the time of his discharge.

The ominous claim bill was taken up. It includes a number of claims for property owned in the South which was destroyed by the union forces during the civil war.

HOUSE.

The House became involved in a fight today over the proposal, contained in the pension appropriation bill to abolish the eighteen pension agencies throughout the country and have the pensioners all paid from a central office in Washington.

A similar attempt was made in Congress last year, but friends of the agencies succeeded in having the secretary of the interior instructed to report this session on the feasibility of the abolition. Secretary Garfield has reported in favor of the centralization and the fight is on again. It is estimated that the centralization would result in an annual saving of $225,000. It was realized that whatever action the House would take, the matter would have to be fought over again in the Senate and possibly in the conference of the two houses.

"I charge that the President has exceeded his authority in exercising legislative, executive and judicial powers over the isthmian canal since 1904, and the republican majority in Congress with having neglected to provide a suitable government there." Such were the charges Mr. Harrison (dem. N. Y.) made in the House today in support of a resolution calling on the President for an explanation of the source of the authority he has exercised over the zone. This resolution was brought up under unanimous consent.

Mr. Tawney suggested to Mr. Harrison that it would be fairer to try the President after he had answered the resolution.

The New Yorker said he based his criticisms on a letter the Attorney General had written, holding the President had the authority to exercise these powers on the zone as long as Congress provided no government.

The resolution was adopted practically unanimously.

DRUGS OUT OF DATE

Declaring that he had given up the practice of medicine because the science was rapidly becoming obsolete, that mental suggestion was the most effective cure for bodily ailments, and that but twelve drugs in the pharmacopeia would even so much as aid cures, Dr. Frederick Van Eeden, of Holland, widely known as a sociologist, expounded the virtures of hypno-suggestion before a large audience of men and women, at the Hudson Theater in New York yesterday.

Dr. Van Eeden pointed out the dangers of the inexperienced experimenting with hypnosis, roundly wrapped Christian Science extremists as fanatics, and declared that he was convinced that an invisible fluid passed from the fingers of the hypnotist into the brain of the subject.

"I gave up the practice of medicine years ago for the more effective treatment of mental suggestion," said the doctor. "Many doctors who are practicing medicine today rely more on mental suggestion than they do on drugs, but they do not like to admit it."

According to a dispatch received at the State Department yesterday the Republic of Liberia will send a commission to the United States within a short time to solicit the assistance of the goverment in straightening out the difficulties with which the little republic is on the verge of being overwhelmed.

Miss Elizabeth Amanda Cator, of Baltimore, and Frederick Vincent Sykes, a member of the metropolitan police force of Washington, were married in Rockville yesterday afternoon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Thomas J Packard, rector of Christ Episcopal Church. It was a runaway affair.

The report of the public service commission shows that during February there were 3,951 railroad accidents in New York in which twenty-six persons were killed. Of the 2,157 persons injured in these accidents 1,219 were passengers. During January the injured were 2,500 and the killed numbered forty-four.

The Iowa republican convention yesterday named four delegates-at-large to the national convention and instructed them to support William H. Taft for the presidency. The convention also indorsed Senator Allison for re-election, despite the efforts of the Cummins faction and approved the tariff revision plank in the Ohio platform.

An interesting ceremony took place in the hall of the House of Delegates at the Statehouse in Annapolis, Md., yesterday afternoon, when a handsome oil-painted portrait of the late United States Senator Arthur P. Gorman, for many years the dominant leader of the democratic party in Maryland, was formally presented to the State.

The national convention of the United Mine Workers of America in Indianapolis, Ind., yesterday afternoon changed the place of its next meeting from St. Louis to Indianapolis and received a unanimous report from its scale committee, which has been considering, since last Thursday, a future policy for the organization. The scale committee recommended yearly settlements with the operators by districts, the minimum demand being the present wage scale and conditions in each district. Local differences are to be adjusted by the district conferences.

CITY IN DARKNESS.

For several hours yesterday Wheeling, W. Va., was in the grasp of a terrific storm. Houses were struck by lightning, trees were uprooted by the strong wind, and hundreds of people in the big factories and department stores were terrified, while in the county the people prayed, a report having spread throughout the country region that an earthquake was expected. Negroes in the city prayed in the streets, fearing the judgment day had come.

Shortly after 9 o'clock yesterday morning intense darkness settled over the city. Street lights had to be lighted, and traffic on the streets was brought to a standstill. This lasted for ten minutes and yesterday afternoon about 1 o'clock the same phenomenon occurred, plunging the city into a midnight gloom again.

Two electrical storms swept over the city after the darkness had lifted, during which several buildings were struck by lightning. One man was stunned.

LETTER TO A. S. DONIPHAN.

Alexandria, Virginia.

Dear Sir: North Dakota has a pure paint law and is branding the paint-manufacturers. Here's how one of 'em gets the hot iron.

Almost half of his "oil" is benzine and water; more than half of his "pigment" is whiting barytes and such.

Benzine and water dry-out in a few minutes and hours; they don't do any harm. Those "pigments" don't dry-out; and perhaps they don't do much harm.

Is that what paint is for: not to do much harm? Do you pay $5 a gallon for paint and putting it on, not to do much harm?

The lead zinc and oil in that "paint" is a little less than half and the trash is a little more than half.

How many gallons, half trash and half paint, will it take to paint a 10-gallon job two coats? how many coats, half trash and half paint, will it take to cover? and what'll become of those pigments not paint?

And reckon the costs; you can roughly. Half trash, 20 gallons, $5 a gallon, $100; 10 gallons Devoe, $50. A gallon of trash or paint put-on is $5.

There's one Devoe; there are 8 pure paints; and over 200 adulterated and 100 short-measure.

Yours truly,
F W DEVOE & Co.

Virginia News.

Capt. J. W. Dempsey, a Seaboard Air Line roadmaster, was killed near Warfield, yesterday, by a freight train which ran down his handcar.

Harry Mills, of Washington, has sold his home and farm on the Potomac river, in King George county, to Mr. Kirkpatrick, of Pennsylvania.

Sixty-nine delegates, representing the republicans of the First congressional district, met at Cape Charles yesterday. George Nelms Wise, of Newport News, was nominated for Congress.

The largest educational conference ever held in that part of Virginia began at Culpeper yesterday afternoon and will continue in session for three days. Mr. C. M. Maphis, school examiner, and State Superintendent J. D. Eggleston made addresses last night.

Messrs. Davis & Davis, Washington patent attorneys, report the grant, this week, to citizens of this State of the following patents: J. J. Alley, of Bristol, coke oven door; F. von Kugelgen and G. O. Seward, of Holcombs Rock, producing aluminum-magnesium alloys; H. C. Wright, of Shumansville, cleaning compound; J. T. Wright, of Richmond, dental instrument; J. A. Warren, of Surry, peanut picker; T. J. Whalen, of Middlebrook, flying-machine.

CONGRESS WON'T FIGHT.

There will be no fight between the President and Congress over the legislative programme. Such recommendations as the President may make will be be complied with by the two houses Senator Aldrich visited the White House last night and made known to the President this decision by congressional leaders Earlier in the day there had been a conference between the two bosses of the Senate, including Senators Aldrich and Hale, and the bosses of the House, including Speaker Cannon and the committee on rules, at which it was agreed that, in spite of their disinclination to do anything the President wants, the leaders cannot afford to bring on a fight.

After some discussion of the easiest way to prevent the President from sending in another message which would place the Congress in the light of obstructing necessary legislation, it was decided that Senator Aldrich should visit the White House and offer to the President terms of surrender.

Among the bills to be acted upon will be a new employers' liability bill, amendments to the interstate commerce law permitting pooling by railroads, under regulation by the Interstate Commerce Commission, and amendments to the Sherman anti-trust law to exclude from its provisions labor organizations and certain kinds of business combinations

These amendments have been drawn principally by Secretary Garfield, of the Department of the Interior, and Assistant Secretary Herbert Knox Smith, of the Department of Commerce and Labor. They have been submitted to Senator Knox for final revision and for his opinion respecting their effectiveness and their constitutionality.

As a result of the understanding reached, the President will not send another message to Congress, and the two houses will begin to clear the way for the measures outlined.

William J. Bryan, in a letter to William E Gonzales, editor of the Columbia, S. C., State, says that it is not for him to discuss the question of availability of candidates. His availability as a candidate, he says, is not a question upon which his judgment should be ventured or accepted. "I have simply stated that it is a question for the voters of the party to determine.

"As a democrat I have resented the claim that a few editors should decide this question for the people. I have insisted that the readers ought to know what pecuniary interest the editor has in the questions under discussion. For instantv, I asked the World to state editorially what financial interest its owner, Mr. Pulitzer, has in the stocks and bonds of corporations commonly known as trusts. The World has not seen fit to answer the question."

"I do not deny the right of Harriman, of Morgan, or Rockefeller, or Pulitzer to own a paper and present their views to the public, but I do contend that in the interest of honesty and fair dealing, the owner of the paper should be known and the interest of the owner in the question frankly stated.

"I especially appreciate the generous support that has come to me from the southern States. If the democratic voters believe that I can assist the party by being a candidate, why should I refuse? And why should I take the advice of a few editors who have never been friendly rather than the advice of millions of democrats who have been colaborers with me for more than a decade?"

We have received from Capt James J. McDonald, of Washington, D. C., a copy of his recently published book, "Life in Old Virginia." Mr. McDonald has made the history, geography and customs of the State a study for many years, and as the result, has given us much valuable information in a most compact and interesting form. He gives in beginning a sketch of the first English settlements in Virginia, and later, touches on the civil war. He is especially happy in points relating to the spirit, manners and customs of old Virginia, bringing out many phases of life there which have never before been written up. A vein of humor runs through the book and songs, proverbs and old prints add to its value. Mr. McDonald has received letters from many prominent Virginians congratulating him upon his authorship of a book which will be of immense value to teachers and students of Virginia history.

FAKE HAIR PREPARATIONS

Do Hair No Good, But Often Cause It To Fall Out.

Many hair preparations are "fake" because they are merely scalp irritants. They often cause a dryness, making the hair brittle, and finally, lifeless. Dandruff is the cause of all trouble with hair. It is a germ disease. The germ makes cuticle scales as it digs to the root of the hair, where it destroys the hair's vitality, causing it to fall out. To cure dandruff, the germ must be killed. "Destroy the cause you remove the effect." Newbro's Herpicide is the only hair preparation that kills the dandruff germ, thereby leaving the hair to grow luxuriantly.

Sold by E. S. Leadbeater & Bro., agents. Two sizes 50c and $1.00. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. 130

The Lilley Investigation.

Washington, Mar. 19.—When the special committee investigating the charges of corruption of Congress by the Electric Boat Company convened today for the examination of the Secretary of the Navy, regarding submarine matters, the committee sat at one end of the room, and Representative Lilley, author of the charges, sat at the other. Mr. Lilley's withdrawal from his seat beside the committee occasioned comment among members of Congress, as they considered it further evidence of his purpose not to have anything to do with the inquiry, because the committee refused to conduct it as he desired When the session convened, Chairman Boutell submitted a letter addressed to the committee from William Dulles, of New York, denying the published statement that he had resigned his directorship in the Electric Boat Company, because of his belief that the concern was engaged in corrupt practices

Secretary Metcalf then took the stand, testifying that, in his opinion, submarines were a necessity in the navy.

Mr. Olmstead's queries were in reference to the purchase by the government of Lake boats when those of Electric Boat Company had been proven to be superior. Mr. Metcalf, on being questioned by Mr. Olmstead, said he thought the pending bill gives the Lake company enough time and opportunity to get in on the appropriation for submarines. This was a contradiction of Lilley's charge that legislation has been shaped so as to keep out the Lake boats and to favor solely the Electric Boat Company.

Conditions in Hayti.

Port au Prince, Mar. 19.—The American cruiser Des Moines, the American gunboat Paducah and the English cruiser Cressy arrived here today. The populace is under good control and there are no signs of immediate trouble.

Port au Prince, Hayti, Mar. 19.—The danger of trouble in Hayti is not over. Against foreboders the bitterest feeling exists. President Nord Alexis continues to strengthen the garrisons at Forts Bisoton and Alexandre. Guns have been mounted commanding the harbor.

The diplomatic representatives here and at Gonaives still consider themselves in grave peril of attack. The commanders of the cruisers Indefatigable and Bremen here and the D'Entrees, at Gonaives, are holding marines in readiness for a hurried landing.

The embarkation of the revolutionary fugitives hitherto sheltered in the various legations and consulates continues and over this question there seems no prospect of further friction.

The diplomats and naval officers generally agree in blaming General Leconte, the new minister of the interior, for the trouble and there is a strong disposition to force him from office. While he remains in power it is feared the reign of terror will continue.

Will be Made a "Royal Highness."

London, Mar. 19. Not only does King Victor of Italy expect the Duke of Abruzzi to marry Miss Katherine Elkins, but his majesty is reconciled to the match and plans high honors for the duke and the bride's father, according to a Central News message from Rome. The duke will be given the post of vice admiral and he and the duchess will be given one of the royal palaces either at Naples or Venice as a residence. On Senator Elkins, it is said, the king will confer an Italian title of nobility that there may be no question of disparity in rank between the bride and bridegroom.

Milan, Italy, Mar. 19.—The Courier Della Sera says Miss Elkins will be made a "royal highness" in her own right when she weds the Duke of Abruzzi, and that any sons the couple may have will be prince of the royal house with the right of succession to the throne.

Sullivan to Retire.

Chicago, Mar. 19.—As the result of the peace overtures of William J. Bryan during his recent visits here to secure harmony in the ranks, it is rumored today that Roger C. Sullivan, present national committeeman, who has been bitterly assailed by Mr. Bryan in the past, has agreed not to be a candidate for the place again. He will step aside, it is reported, and allow some man not closely allied with either faction of the party in Illinois to have his place. The democrats of Illinois, it is conceded by all factions of the party, are for Mr. Bryan. The State committee will endorse him, the State convention will say nice things about him, and it is expected that the delegates will be instructed for him. Under these circumstances Roger Sullivan, should he be made national committeeman, could hardly do less than work valiantly in the cause of the man who once bitterly attacked him.

Fatally Hurt by Falling Tree.

Millville, N. J., Mar. 19.—After a night of agony in which he lay for hours, helpless, pinned beneath a huge tree he had felled, alone in the woods miles from any house, Stacey Mason, of East Millville, is reported to be dying at his home where he was carried early today. He had been picked up by men who found him. Mason had been chopping for hours on a huge tree and just before night it fell with a crash, pinning him fast. Although badly hurt, he managed to escape after several hours work by digging away the dirt with his fingers. He then dragged himself toward a road where he was picked up. He suffered almost as much from the cold as from his injuries and doctors give slight hope for his recovery.

Street Cars Collide.

Philadelphia, Mar. 19.—Thirty persons, five of them women, were very seriously, although not fatally, hurt today when two trolley cars collided at the intersection of Market and Sixth streets. The collision was due to a misunderstanding of orders, and the Sixth street car, running full speed, crashed into the Market street car amidships. Hurry calls were sent in for ambulances and police reserves, and after half an hour's work the injured were extricated and taken to hospitals.

The old warship Monongahela was burned to the water's edge at her station at Guantanamo bay yesterday. No lives were lost. The fire was accidental.

Gored to Death.

Guadalajara, Mexico, March 19.—Boasting that he possessed the courage of the matadors, whose combats in the arena had thrilled him since childhood, Jose Maria Moreno, owner of the San Pedro ranch, committed suicide by allowing a bull to gore him to death in full view of 300 persons. Spectators were friends and neighbors whom he had invited to the scene, promising an exhibition superior to the regulation bull fight. For several moments they watched him as he tormented a bull in the cattle pen, which he had entered, armed only with a stick, at the end of which was fastened an iron prong, and applauded his cleverness in sidestepping the charges of the enraged animal. Suddenly it became apparent that he was taking risks greater than the professional bull fighter usually expects himself to, and a cry of horror went up from the crowd when he stood directly in the path of the bull and adjusted his body so that one of the horns must penetrate near his heart.

The animal struck him, and as he fell it became maddened by the sight of blood and gored him repeatedly. Women in the crowd fled shrieking, and some of the men went to his rescue. After a battle with the beast they succeeded in driving it back and dragging the lifeless body away.

General Smirnoff's Condition.

St. Petersburg, Mar. 19. Gen. Smirnoff, who was shot in the abdomen in a duel with General Fock, his fellow officer at the defense of Port Arthur, remains in a critical condition at the Military Hospital here. There have as yet been no serious developments from his wound, but surgeons have failed in several attempts to remove the bullet, and it is believed an operation will be necessary from which, in his weakened condition, the patient will be in the gravest danger.

The seconds have not yet agreed on terms for the duel General Fock is to fight next with General Gorbatovsky, who was quite as outspoken at the recent court martial as was Gen Smirnoff in his criticisms of Fock's conduct at Port Arthur. The controversy is over the question of distance, which Fock's seconds insist shall be at five paces, while Gorbatovsky's insist on fifteen. The two officers will fight as soon as an agreement is reached.

General Stoessel's health has failed so rapidly in the past few days that his friends are much alarmed for him, and it is beginning to be believed he will not live even to begin his ten years term of imprisonment. The authorities are not insisting on his incarceration while he continues dangerously ill.

Attacked by Policemen.

San Francisco, Mar. 19.—A riot occured yesterday at police headquarters in which a number of officers attacked J. D. Samuelson, a lodging house keeper, following the efforts of Chief of Police Biggy to discover the officers who have, it is alleged, been extorting money. Twenty-five officers, including those suspected, were lined up at headquarters, Samuelson, with Chief Biggy, passed down the line and pointed out the men who, he declared, had forced lodging house keepers to pay for protection.

When he pointed an accusing finger at Patrolman David Sullivan, "Your are a liar," he cried, and struck Samuelson in the face. Instantly the other officers joined in the fight. Samuelson, wounded and bleeding, was the centre of the struggling group.

When the men were quieted and Samuelson rescued he bore the marks of a number of blows beside the one inflicted by Sullivan.

As a result of the accusations of Samuelson, seven members of the police force were formally deprived of their stars, suspended and now await trial.

Held For Spanking Stepdaughter.

Millford, Del., March 19.—For spanking his 25-year-old stepdaughter as if she were a baby, Henry Clay Jones, a prominent and well-to-do farmer, living near Millford, was held under $1,000 bail for his appearance at the April court. The trouble grew out of a dispute over the sale of butter and eggs between Jones and Miss Mary Bennett. Miss Bennett testified that her stepfather gave her an old-fashioned spanking such as "mother used to make." Miss Bennett was prostrated by the shock. Dr. James G. Stanton testified to her injuries.

Adopted Committee's Report.

Indianapolis, Ind. Mar. 19.—With a few minor changes, the International Convension of Miue workers today adopted its scale committee's report. Briefly stated, the policy is that the seperate districts may adopt wage contracts with their operators, that such contracts shall be for one year, and that the scale shall provide for "not less than the present wage rates." This settles all questions of a strike in the southwest, as the operators there are ready to sign a scale.

Preparing for Electrocution.

Auburn, N. Y., Mar. 19.—Although Governor Hughes's final answer to Mrs. Gillette's petition for clemency for her son, Chester E Gillette, now under sentence of death in Auburn prison for the murder of his sweetheart, "Billy" Brown, has not been given, the prison officials are making preparations to carry out the sentence. Warden Benham today issued invitations for the electrocution, which is fixed for the week beginning March 30.

Rioters Injured.

Berlin, Mar. 19.—One hundred and fifty to two hundred persons are estimated to have been hurt in last night's rioting in which the socialist demonstration in memory of the revolutionists killed in the street fighting here March 18, 1848, finally culminated.

Do not Crowd the Season.

The first warm days of spring bring with them a desire to get out and enjoy the exhilarating air and sunshine. Children that have been housed up all winter are brought out and you wonder where they all came from. The heavy winter clothing is thrown aside and many shed their flannels. Then a cold wave comes and people say that grip is epidemic. Colds at this season are even more dangerous than in mid-winter, as there is more danger of pneumonia Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, however, and you will have nothing to fear. It always cures, and we have never known a cold to result in pneumonia when it was used. It is pleasant and safe to take. Children like it. For sale by W. F. Creighton and Richard Gibson.

Mme Gould Arrives.

New York, Mar. 19.—Accompanied by her three children, Mme. Anna Gould, formerly the Countess Castellane, arrived here today on the White Star liner Adriatic, which reached Quarantine about noon. Her visit here is expected to last several months, and she is said to have made no definite plans for returning to France.

Anxiety for Francis Joseph.

Vienna, Mar. 19.—Emperor Francis Joseph has developed an attack of bronchitis. He has considerable fever and his sleep was much disturbed by a violent cough. His physicians admit that at his age any illness, however slight, is gravely dangerous. The frequency of his majesty's recent attacks increases the anxiety concerning him.

Hummel Liberated.

New York, Mar. 19.—"Little Abe" Hummel, the lawyer convicted of subornation of perjury in the Dodge-Morse divorce case, left the Blackwell Island prison this morning and is now being kept in retirement by his friends. Hummel is expected to sail for Europe on Saturday. Hummel's commuted year's sentence expired at midnight.

Tolstoi in Critical Condition.

Flood Expected.

Pittsburg, Pa., Mar. 19.—With both the Monongahela and Allegheny rivers already surging torrents and rising at the rate of six inches an hour, Pittsburg is preparing for another flood. Already merchants are moving their wares out of the danger zone. At 10 a. m. today both rivers had passed the flood stage of 22 feet.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Mar. 19.—There was enough covering of shorts and supporting orders in the market this morning to create a firmer tone, and at the end of the hour the majority of the active issues showed a fair net gain over last night's close. Room traders were at first disposed to bid up prices, but a batch of selling orders started a reaction. The stocks then sold were easily absorbed and another recovery followed. Government bonds, the 4s registered, declined one-quarter; other bonds were better.

MR. HARPER RESIGNS.

Desiring to save the bank any possible embarrassment which might result because of President Roosevelt's attitude toward him, Robert M. Harper, president of the American National Bank, in Washington, who recently was convicted for alleged violation of the pure food law, yesterday tendered his resignation as president of the institution to the board of directors.

Mr. Harper's action was opposed by the directors, who insisted that his faithful and loyal services had in a large measure been responsible for the success of the institution. Mr. Harper, however, declared that he had only the interest of the bank at heart, and that he feared his connection with the institution in the face of Mr. Roosevelt's arraignment would be detrimental to its interests. And it was only after Mr. Harper's refusal to reconsider his action, that his resignation was reluctantly accepted.

R. Henry Lynn, cashier of the bank, was unanimously elected by the board of directors to succeed Mr. Harper as president. Until further action by the directors, Mr. Lynn will assume the duties of both president and cashier.

M. E. CHURCH SOUTH.

The fourth quarterly conference of Washington Street M. E. Church, South was held in the parlor of the Young People's Building last night. Rev. E. V. Regester presided. The pastor, Rev. Charles D. Bulls, submitted reports for the year.

Mr. J. T. Myers was elected superintendent of the Washington Street Sunday School and George R. Smith superintendent of the Village Chapel Sunday School. The following were elected stewards for the ensuring year:

Messrs. J. E. Alexander, S. R. Catts, P. O. Cockey, H. K. Field, E. C. Graham, G. W. Keys, J. F. Myers, C. E. Outcalt, O. B. Pierpoint, W. G. Plaskett, F. J. Pollard, Alvin Powell, J. P. Robinson, J. C. Smoot, J. E. W. Timberman, J. B. Watkins. W. T. Wilkins, Wilbert C. Baggett, Charles E. Dare, Walter C. Davis, J. G. Graham and Walter S. Nicklin.

The Baltimore Conference M. E. Church South will meet in Roanoke, March 25. Next Sunday will be the last Sunday of the year.

A most delightful incident of the conference last evening was the presentation of an oil portrait of Rev. Wm. E. Munsey, D. D., to the church, by Mr. Millard P. Vincent.

Mr. Vincent in a short, but very apt address told of his recollections of Dr. Munsey, the painting of the portrait and of seeing his father, the late Wm. F. Vincent, make the frame of the picture; and then asked Mr. Wm. H. May to formally present the portrait to the church.

Mr. May, with much of his old-time vigor, in a very eloquent speech, on behalf of the donor, gave the portrait to the church.

Rev. C. D. Bulls, the pastor, appropriately responded and accepted the portrait.

The portrait was painted by Schuler and is a striking likeness; it will be hung in the church parlor, which will eventually become the Methodist "Temple of Fame."

Rev. Dr. Munsey was pastor of the Washington street church shortly after the civil war; his ministry here was a great personal triumph and the memory of his eloquent sermons and lectures still remains with those who heard him.

He was a pulpit genius, his fervid and figurative oratory attacted large audiences everywhere; while here the church and galleries were crowded and the aisles almost filled by those eager to hear him. From here he was sent to Baltimore, first to Central and then to Trinity, where he was also acclaimed the prince of preachers.

He afterwards returned to his native southwest, where he died in the prime of his life.

The very thoughtful and gracious act of Mr. Vincent is greatly appreciated by the church and the gift highly prized; the portrait is almost priceless, as it is the only oil portrait of Dr. Munsey known to be in existence.

A MODERN STABLE.

The livery stable now being erected by Mr. Peter Harrington on the east side of St. Asaph street, between King and Cameron, is nearing completion, and when it shall have been opened for business it will be one of the largest and most modern in the State of Virginia. The structure will be imposing, the sanitary arrangements perfect and everything in connection with it constructed on the most approved plans. The building has been erected with a definite purpose in view—that is, should it be desired at any time to convert the structure into a modern flat, it can be accomplished with but few alterations of the original plans.

FAILED TO AGREE.

The jury in the case of the Commonwealth vs. Wilbert Cook, indicted for felonious and malicious assault upon T. J. Schneider, on February 11, at a late hour last night failed to agree, and was locked up for the night. This morning the jury again reported that they could not agree and were discharged. (It is reported that the jury stood 11 for a jail sentence of one year and one for a penitentiary sentence.) Mr. J. M. Johnson, counsel for Cook, then withdrew the plea of not guilty and entered a plea of wilful shooting, whereupon Judge Barley sentenced Cook to jail for one year. Schneider, who is a young Fairfax county farmer, was shot in the chest by one of three men, who held him up while he was returning home. For a time his life was despaired of.

ROAD TO CEMETERY.

Congressman Garlin and City Attorney Fisher a few days ago called on the Quartermaster General, in Washington, in reference to the road extending from the intersection of Wilkes and Alfred street, this city, to the National Cemetery. They told the Quartermaster General that the road was much out of repair and needed immediate attention. The official told the Alexandrians that he would at once send an engineer to this city to make a report as to the condition of this road, and added that it looked to him as if the government had built the road and then abandoned it. He intimated that he would recommend its repair.

POLICE COMMISSIONERS.

A meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners was held last night. Most of the business transacted was of no public interest. The board decided to review the action of Mayor Paff in imposing a fine of $5 upon Officer John Henderson for failing to report the whereabouts of a grindstone which had recently been taken from the jail yard. The rules of the board, it seems, provide no fine in such cases, the penalty being forfeiture of ten days' leave of absence, reduction in pay or dismissal.

LOCAL OPTION ELECTION.

A local option election is being held at Manassas today and is one of the most hotly contested that has ever taken place in the history of that town. A message received at this office this evening says:

At 11 a. m. it is said that the vote is 2 dry to 1 for the wets. It looks like a Bull Run rout for the wets.

At 1:30 o'clock a message from Manassas stated that the vote at that time was estimated at 75 to 25 in favor of the drys.

NEW OFFICE AND DWELLING.

Mr. Samuel Devaughn has been granted the contract by Mr. Robinson Moncure for the erection of a handsome dwelling and office building on the lot now occupied by house No. 121 south Royal street. The work of razing the old building will soon be started. The front of the new building will be of white brick and the structure will be fitted up with all the modern conveniences.

FIGHTERS FINED.

Logan Smith and Hayler Jackson, colored, engaged in a fight at the intersection of Wolfe and Alfred streets a few days ago, which attracted a large crowd. The assemblage, however, dispersed when the police appeared. Officers Beach and Sampson ascertained the names of the principals in the fight and arrested them. They were arraigned in the Police Court this morning and fined $5 each.

SMALLPOX.

A river schooner with several colored men on board is quarantined in the Potomac, a short distance below this city, with what is said to be a light case of smallpox on board. The schooner came from Aquia Creek.

THE WEATHER.

The cloudy and threatening weather of the past few days was followed today by clearing skies and warmer temperature. Between four and eight o'clock this morning several heavy showers of rain fell.

RECITAL.

Miss Miron Lee Early, of Philadelphia, will give a dramatic recital tonight, beginning at 8 o'clock, at the Young People's Building on Washington street. The proceeds will be for the Children's Home.

SALE OF LOTS.

Mr. S. H. Lunt today sold for Mr. M. B. Harlow, trustee, twenty five lots in "Park Addition" in Alexandria county, to E. J. Fleming for $25 each.

Mr. John, Riba, of Vining, Ia., says: "I have been selling DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills for about a year and they give better satisfaction than any pill I ever sold. I have used them myself with fine results." Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

REMINISCENCES.

To the Editor of the Alexandria Gazette:

The writer is one of the oldest citizens of Alexandria, both of his parents having been born here, and he having acquired much information from those who were old men when he was a boy, as it was his greatest diversion to accompany them on their walks, which were always out north Fairfax street. The writer is satisfied that your readers who are Alexandrians by birth, or adoption, and love their home, will be glad to see these reminiscences in your columns. It is intended to write short articles following each other which will be the more readily received than would be longer ones.

As we walked out we had to get on high hills, which had been cut down in part to make a road. The first things that attracted the boy were a marsh which extended from Oronoco street a long distance and the beautiful weeping willows and a walk on the east side of the marsh which was what he admired because of a sort of road which men seldom used unless they were gunning but which just suited boys. There were hills of considerable height as you looked to the west, where there were several handsome brick buildings with fine surroundings, where two or three rich people lived. Those were on Washington street extended, and gave the only road to the city, then having but a few thousand inhabitants and getting supplies from Washington and Georgetown. The hills, as you went along, formed a valley and one of them on the south side gave a continued flow of water, which was in every way good, and flowing down to the marsh went along the centre and carried the water from a very large spring called the "Spa" and was said to be very healthy. This was reached from either side along a hill and was in great demand, so much so that it had been cared for by the drinkers and was thought to be very healthy, being impregnated with iron and perhaps with other things, which while not very palatable, were readily drunk there and on the beach.

Cause of Stomach Troubles.

When a man has trouble with his stomach you may know that he is eating more than he should or of some article of food or drink not suited to his age or occupation, or that his bowels are habitually constipated. Take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets to regulate the bowels and improve the digestion and see if the trouble does not disappear. Ask for a free sample. Sold by W. F. THE NEW EAST RIVER BRIDGE.

The great cantilever structure over East river, known as Blackwell's Island bridge, which was constructed at a cost of nearly $25,000,000, was traversed its entire length by pedestrians yesterday for the first time.

Rudolph Knorr, a workman hung his right elbow over 135 feet of sheer space yesterday afternoon while with his left hand he drove home bolts that linked up the eastern cantilever arm of the new bridge with the Long Island City approach.

After Knorr's hammer had driven well the bolts, Alderman Timothy P. Sullivan, representing Mayor McClellan, whom illness kept from participating in the event, broke a foaming bottle of wine over the spot where the last span had capped the labor of four years, and then he proceeded with a party of engineers to walk the length of the longest cantilever bridge in the world.

The length of the bridge proper is 3,726 feet; the river span west of Blackwell's Island is 1,182 feet long, and the corresponding span east of the island is 984 feet in length; with approaches the total length is 7,424 feet; 135 feet is clear height above water in the middle of the bridge. There are, roughly, 50,000 tons of steel in its construction.

The bridge will be double-decked when completed. On the upper deck there will be four elevated tracks and two promenades. The lower will contain two outside trolley tracks, one inside trolley track, and a roadway for vehicles.

We have received from Col. John S. Mosby a copy of his new book, "Stuart's Cavalry in the Gettysburg Campaign." It is an important contribution to the history of the civil war, giving sketches of the battle of Chancellorsville and of the combat between Stuart and Pleasanton and presenting the whole story of the Gettysburg Campaign in a new light. Its author claims that this is the only true account ever written of the battle of Gettysburg and that it settles several questions of great interest. This book, which has been long in preparation, contains over 200 pages, is handsomely bound, has good print and interesting pictures and maps. It should be in every library north and south.

THURSDAY EVENING, MAR. 19, 1908.

Tipping the Cook.

In old times to dine with a nobleman cost more in tips to the servants than a club dinner. Lord Poor, a well named Irish peer, excused himself from dining with the Duke of Ormond upon the ground that he could not afford it. "If you will give me the guinea I have to pay your cook, I will come as often as you choose to ask me"—which was accordingly done. The duke, however, had not the pluck to stop the tipping practice. Lord Taafe, a general officer in the Austrian service, did what he could. He always attended his guests to the door. When they put their hands into their pockets he said: "No. If you do give it, give it to me, for it was I who paid for your dinner." To Sir Timothy Waldo must be given the credit of putting an end to the monstrous practice. After dinner with the Duke of Newcastle he put a crown into the cook's hand. It was rejected. "I do not take silver, sir." "Very good. And I do not give gold." This courageous rejoinder "caught on," and the day of vails to cooks was over.—St. James' Gazette.

Taking the Initiative.

There is a certain satisfaction in taking the enemy unawares on his own ground, in downing him with his own weapons. President Polk evidently took comfort in his method for mitigating the hand shake, that curse of the chief executive office, and he must have chuckled when he wrote in his diary the bit which is given in James Schouler's "Historical Briefs:"

If a man surrendered his arm to be shaken by one horizontally, by another perpendicularly and by another with a strong grip, he could not fail to suffer severely by it. But if he would shake and not be shaken, grip and not be gripped, taking care always to squeeze the hand of his adversary as hard as the adversary squeezed him, he would suffer no inconvenience by it. I can generally anticipate a strong grip from a strong man. I take advantage of him by being quicker than he and seizing him by the tips of his fingers. This is stated playfully, but it is all true.

Former Instruments of Torture.

Instead of gymnastics or games, instruments of torture were used for modeling the figure of the young lady of 1831. An English writer of that year says that "could the modern schoolroom be preserved it would pass for a refined inquisition. There would be found stocks for the fingers (the chelroplast) and pulleys for the neck, with weights attached." Fanny Kemble, to whom nature had been by no means unkindly, was found wanting in deportment, and she writes that she wore a "back board made of steel, covered with red morocco, which consisted of a flat piece placed on my back and strapped down to my waist with a belt and secured at the top by two epaulets strapped over my shoulders. From the middle of this there rose a steel rod or spine with a steel collar, which encircled my throat, fastened behind." The machine proved a failure, and she was put under the tuition of a drill sergeant, who did for her all that was required.—"Social England."

Four Bad Snakes.

Snakes are much maligned creatures, although they are, for the most part, of considerable value to man, as they live almost entirely on insects and the small rodents that are injurious to crops. Of all the snakes that inhabit North America there are really only four that are dangerous. These are the copperhead, the moccasin, the rattlesnake and a little snake of southern Georgia and Florida known as the coral snake. Of course there are a number of different species of the rattler (about thirty), but they inhabit different parts of the country and are all to be known from the fact that they "rattle" when approached. All the rest of our snakes are absolutely harmless, and their bite is to be less feared than that of a mosquito.—Scrap Book.

A Remarkable Church.

A small watering place in Austria named Eichwald can boast of possessing a most remarkable church. It was first built by an Italian architect at Venice at the expense of Prince Carlos Clary-Aldringen, a great admirer of Italian architecture. When it was finished, the church was taken to pieces again and packed in thousands of numbered cases for transportation to Eichwald. At this place in Austria it was eventually rebuilt and then made over to the inhabitants as a free gift from the prince.

The Seeds Were There.

Farmer Nubbins (shouting across the garden fence to his next door neighbor)—Hey, there! What are you burying in that hole? Neighbor—Oh, I'm just replanting some of my garden seeds. Nubbins—Garden seeds, eh? Looks to me mighty like one of my hens. Neighbor—That's all right. The seeds are inside.—London Mail.

"How fortunate! How do you account for it?"

"They don't live together."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Quick climatic changes try strong constitutions and cause, among other evils, nasal catarrh, a troublesome and offensive disease. Sneezing and snuffling, coughing and difficult breathing, and the drip, drip of the foul discharge into the throat—all are ended by Ely's Cream Balm. This honest remedy contains no cocaine, mercury nor other harmful ingredient. The worst cases yield to treatment in a short time. All druggists, 50c, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren street, New York.

A Quaint Scotch Wedding Custom.

A quaint wedding custom still prevails in many of the little country towns and mining villages in Scotland. When a wedding is held the contracting parties make their guests pay in full for the eating, drinking and dancing facilities which are usually provided on such occasions. The practice still seems to survive even in Glasgow. A correspondent observed a notice posted up in the Cowcaddens, a low class Glasgow thoroughfare, informing the public that a soldier would shortly enter into the bonds of wedlock and that twopence would be charged for admission to the ceremony and an additional sixpence imposed for attendance at the wedding feast. The practice seems to be peculiarly Scotch, but sixpence certainly seems moderate enough for a marriage supper.—Westminster Gazette.

The Reader Who Skips.

A good work of fiction, whether in prose or in verse—we are here speaking only of good works—is a work of art and can be rightly enjoyed only by entering into sympathy with the artist's mind and accepting his work according to his intention. In a perfect poem the place of every word, in a perfect novel the place, if not of every word, of every episode and of every paragraph, is important, and the reader who skips throws away the pleasure he has meant to derive from the harmony of composition, in which very possibly the beauty of the whole may chiefly consist, and despises the best part of the artist's labor. He might as well go to see a good play and then willfully miss every alternate scene.—Exchange.

Atmospheric Temperature.

The temperature of the atmosphere cools on an average about 1 degree for every 300 feet that we ascend or warms at the same rate as we descend. The mean temperature at the north pole is 0 and at the equator between 80 and 90 degrees. We can, therefore, get into a temperature 1 degree colder for every seventy or eighty miles that we travel north and in a temperature 1 degree warmer for every seventy or eighty miles that we travel south.

His Idea of Water.

At one time the bailiff in charge of an English jury was sworn to keep them "without meat, drink or fire." It was Justice Maule who gave the classic reply to the bailiff, who inquired whether he might grant a juryman's request for a glass of water: "Well, it is not meat, and I should not call it drink. Yes, you may."

The Tower of Babel.

The tower of Babel at Babylon was composed of eight square towers, one upon the other, the pile being 660 feet high. Babylon was a square, fifteen miles on each side, the walls being eighty-seven feet thick and 370 feet high.

His Hard Luck.

"Can't you find any work at all?"

"Plenty, sir, but everybody wants references from my last employer."

"Can't you get them?"

"No, sir. He's been dead twenty-eight years."—Illustrated Bits.
